

I am concerned about the proposed usage of cellular telephones in-flight. I believe they will distract passengers in relation to safety. Not all cell users have common sense to politely lower their voice, or minimize their time on a call. Air travel has enough challenges at this time, without compounding the problems with an added distraction. Please do not allow permission for passengers to utilize cell phones aboard the airborne aircraft.